

Presents a Workshop

In association with:

First Responder to Sexual Assault and Abuse Training™

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This is a beginner yet comprehensive 'Identify, Respond and Refer' training. This training is beneficial for professionals and paraprofessionals who are working with individuals who may be impacted by sexual violence, and for community members who are interested in increasing their skills and confidence to address sexual abuse and sexual assault.

This training is open to, but not limited to, individuals who work in Health, Social Services, and Education & Justice. Nurses, Physicians, Social Workers, Youth Workers, Mental Health Workers, Teachers, School Counselors, Police Officers, Victim Services Workers, as well as Faith Leaders.

MODULES:

Module One: Critical Communication Skills for First Responders

- Feedback, language, communication skills, Intersectionality, process of a disclosure and self-care.

Module Two: Child Sexual Abuse

- Definition, Criminal Code, consent, impacts and indicators and reporting obligations.

Module Three: Adults Who Were Sexually Abused as Children

- Impacts, PTSD and Complex PTSD, triggers and reporting options.

Module Four: Sexual Harassment

- Definition, impacts, discussion and reporting options.

Module Five: Sexual Assault

- Definition, Criminal Code, consent, myths, impacts, sexual assault trauma and reporting options.

Module Six: Rethinking Prevention

- Campaigns, education, awareness and inspiring hope.

Sexual Assault Services of Saskatchewan maintains responsibility for the program.

WHERE

In Person Training at:
The West Central Crisis
and Family Support Center

105 Colton Drive East,
Kindersley, SK

WHEN

March 19th and 20th

8:30 am to 4:30 pm

COST

$150 per person
(Includes participant manual, lunch/snacks & two days of training).

To Register:

P: 306-463-6655

Jeanine Russell

Space is limited to 12
PRE REGISTER
By March 16th
No refunds.